1. GSCN Conference in Jena – deadline for early bird ticket and application for oral presentation: 5 July 2024

You have two more days to register for the Early Bird Ticket or to apply for oral presentation at the GSCN Conference in Jena (25 – 27 Sept. 2024). Please register here until 5 July 2024!

The GSCN Conference will take place in Jena from 25 – 27 September 2024! There will be excellent keynote speakers with Garðar Ágúst Árnason (Akureyri, Iceland), Cantas Alev (Kyoto, Japan), Amander Clark (Los Angeles, US), Camilla Forsberg (Santa Cruz, US), Hans Reimer Rodewald (DKFZ, Heidelberg) and Thomas Zwaka (New York, US) as well as the GSCN awardees and the many session lectures. The GSCN Conference is always a highlight in the German stem cell field, and we are looking forward to three exciting days – please check the program here.

2. Travel award for the GSCN Conference in Jena – 5 July 2024

Great chance until 5 July 2024: Apply for travel awards to the GSCN Conference in Jena and get 400 € travel expenses and a free registration. To apply please send the submitted abstract to the event and a short letter of motivation (max. 1 page) to the GSCN Office (office@gscn.org). The letter should contain 1) the importance of the event for the applicant, 2) how the applicant profits from the event and 3) why financial support is important.

3. GSCN Annual Magazine is online: The global stem cell economy

It is hot off the press: The printed GSCN Annual Magazine is on its way to your mailbox (if you are a GSCN member). The main topic is extraordinary benchmarking: The global stem cell economy, with articles about Europe, North America and Asia-Pacific. An overview about research structures, political strategies and industrial and entrepreneurial developments. Furthermore, there are articles about advanced bioengineering, a survey about stem cell and embryo research in Germany and how stem cell technologies help against extinction of endangered species. Please find the online magazines here.

4. GSCN Awards 2024 – call for suggestions

The GSCN awards each year three prize winners in the following sections:

"GSCN 2024 Young Investigator Award"

"GSCN 2024 Hilde Mangold Award"

"GSCN 2024 Publication of the Year Award"

The awardees will give a lecture in the Presidential Symposium on Thursday, 26 Sept. 2024, at the GSCN Conference in Jena and receive 1500 €. Everybody can suggest a proper candidate!

If you want to propose a candidate for the GSCN 2024 Hilde Mangold Award, please use this form.

If you want to propose a candidate for the GSCN 2024 Young Investigator Award, please use this form.

If you want to suggest a Publication of the Year 2023-2024, please write a mail to office@gscn.org.

4. GSCN Public Outreach on 9 July 2024 in Hamburg

The GSCN organizes a public outreach event (in German) on 9 July 2024 at 18:30h at the main building of Hamburg University with an exciting panel – entrance is free, please spread the word in your networks. This is especially interesting for students, high school students, patients and other interested people living in or near Hamburg.

The following stem cell researchers will be on the panel:

Maike Sander, Max Delbrück Center Berlin, specialist for stem cells and diabetes

Jürgen Knoblich, IMBA Vienna, specialist for cerebral organoids and neurodegenerative diseases

Hans Schöler, MPI for Molecular Biomedicine Münster, specialist in aging and developmental biology

Ole Pless, Fraunhofer Institute for Translational Medicine and Pharmacology ITMP Hamburg, specialist for rare diseases and drug testing

Moderation: Stefanie Seltsmann
